OYSTERPONDS HISTORICAL SOCIETY

1555 Village Lane, Orient, NY 11957 • office@ohsny.org • 631-323-2480

Six new exhibitions in Village House (and a Folk Art exhibition in the Old Point Schoolhouse) will OPEN TO THE PUBLIC ON MEMORIAL DAY WEEKEND with hours are Fridays and Sundays 2-5pm and Saturdays 11am-5pm. Admission is free for OHS members and $10 for non-member adults, which grants same-day access to all OHS buildings & exhibitions.

Village House (1555 Village Lane) is period-furnished with noteworthy pieces from the OHS collection and shown as a late 19th-century boarding house, demonstrating a significant chapter in its history. This year’s Village House exhibitions are:

“Oysterponds at Leisure” (Photography) – Culled from our extensive collection, these photographs depict people in East Marion and Orient as they rest, play, and enjoy a respite from the daily grind of work. There are scenes on the water (boating and ice skating), on the beach, relaxing on porches (at hotels and at home), playing (grownups and children), riding in carriages and cars, bicycling, sightseeing, and celebrating special events.

“In Pursuit of Whales” – Concentrates on documents pertaining to whaling during its heyday in the second quarter of the 19th century. Numerous whaling vessels sailed out of the East End of LI and we have a trove of individual items (letters, contracts, legal documents etc.) relating to dozens different whaling vessels which sailed the seven seas.

“William Steeple Davis Block Prints” – Focuses on the print-making of Orient multimedia luminary Davis (1884-1961)–specifically on his wood-block and linoleum-block prints. He began making block prints in 1924 and sent them to exhibitions around the country. They are some of his best work in any medium, and are being shown together with some of the actual wood and linoleum blocks that he cut to create the prints.

“What is It?” – Our collections are full of extraordinary objects that seem strange to 21st century eyes but, in fact, were common household objects, ordinary implements or useful tools from a century or two ago. Today, it’s a challenge to determine how they were used or for what purpose, but–don’t worry–we’ll supply copious hints to help visitors as they try to deduce what each mysterious item is. Co-curated by Sarah Olmstead.

“Happy Birthday: Orient Yacht Club at 90” – The OYC occupies a central place in the Oysterponds universe. Over the past nine decades OYC has transformed hundreds of sailing novices and landlubbers into intrepid seafarers. Photos and documents capture the compelling history and reflect the Club’s importance to generations.

“Melita Hofmann: Author, Illustrator, Naturalist” – Ms. Hofmann (1907-1976), curator of OHS from its founding in 1944 until 1963, was responsible for most of the early displays and exhibitions at OHS. She studied both at the Parsons School of Design and NYU, as well as in Paris and Munich. She was the author-illustrator of The Big Book of Birds, Pearls of Ferrara and A Trip to the Pond.

History in the Hall display cases now thru Jan. 2024 MASTERS OF METAL: SUFFOLK COUNTY’S EARLY SILVERSMITHS — over 100 pieces of silver crafted by Suffolk County’s earliest known silversmiths. With works by Joel, John, and Paul Sayre, Elias Pelletreau, B. Coleman, and Col. David Hedges, this display case exhibit glistens with the handcrafted work of these fine eighteenth-century artisans.

In our Grand Staas Gallery AMERICA IN PRINT: PRINTS, LITHOGRAPHS, & ETCHINGS. Before the 1800s, art was reserved for the wealthy, but with the invention of lithography in 1796 printers could mass-produce beautiful color prints inexpensively. Suddenly, art was available to all from such printers as Louis Prang and Currier & Ives. Featuring themes of 19-century life and rare examples of “lithographic Long Island,” this exhibit captures the evolution of an American art form.

Saturday, July 8, 1pm: BOOK & BOTTLE: Horrific Homicides: A Judge Looks Back at the Amityville Horror Murders and Other Infamous Long Island Crimes, with Elizabeth Stark Dugan & Ellen Stark. During his 37 years on the bench in Suffolk County, Supreme Court Justice Thomas M. Stark, while presiding over more than 250 criminal jury trials, developed a reputation as a tough but fair-minded jurist with a deep knowledge of criminal law. In Horrific Homicides, Judge Stark shares the stories of four trials that mesmerized Long Islanders in the 1970s and 1980s, chief among them the shocking murders of the DeFeo family in Amityville. Judge Stark died in 2014, having nearly completed the manuscript for the book. His daughters, Elizabeth Stark Dugan and Ellen Stark, who grew up hearing stories of their father’s trials at the dinner table, completed the book based on trial notes, court filings, and news reports. At this event, they will discuss the infamous crimes, the making of the book, and the enduring legacy of these events on the history of Suffolk County. This event will include a Book Sale + Signing. Books are $15 each, cash only. Members Free, Non-Members $8. Includes refreshments. Registration + non-refundable prepayment required. Space is limited! Call 631-727-2881 X100 to reserve your spot!
