On The Cover-

The first verifiable druggist in the hamlet of Southold was Henry G. Howell. (see facing page). According to Rosalind Case Newell's book Rose Remembers, H.G. Howell's Drug Store and Home was built on the south side of the Main Road in 1882. In 1903 he was succeeded by Millard Golder (in the doorway of the cover photo). In 1924 the building was purchased by David Rothman.

Incidentally, Millard Golder's son Bill became a pharmacist and was in business with Donald Scott on the other side of the Main Road at the Southold Pharmacy.

Prince House,
rear view, 1980

This house sat on the north side of the Main Road in Southold across from Rothman's Department Store. It was torn down in 1980 (see page 7)

The brick building shown in these photos is the Prince Building. Today it is the home of the Southold Historical Society's office and Treasure Exchange Gift Shop. It will be interesting to see how quickly the "now" view will change since the Capital One Bank closed and the drive through is no longer used.

In the 1950's Southold Savings Bank was an strong institution. Many Baby Boomers would remember having a pink or blue piggy bank with "Southold Savings Bank" on it. They handed out great pens, and customers could earn toasters and other appliances. Then, in rapid progression, it became North Fork Bank, then Capital One Bank, then no longer a bank but Town property.

MARINE MUSEUM
Southold, Long Island, N. Y.

The Oil House at Horton Point Lighthouse (seen to the left) was originally built in 1891 as a metal corrugated building used to store lantern oil for the light. The building was flattened by the 1938 hurricane. The cement and gravel base were all that remained for 60 years. In 1998, the Southold Historical Society built a structure on the original slab. Today, it houses the Tale of the Whale exhibit featuring whale fossils, humpback whale songs, and facts about whales. The exhibit is open on Saturdays and Sundays through September 22.

Friday, August 16, "Slavery in Southold: an Important New Exhibition" Community members are invited to a viewing reception at 5pm in the Society's Thomas Moore House on the Museum Complex. This house, built on property that had previously belonged to Thomas Moore, was constructed circa 1750 for Samuel Landon. Records show that Samuel Landon "owned" five slaves in 1751. "Slavery in Southold" examines the lives of enslaved people in Southold Town, their servitude, their daily life, the possibility of freedom or lack thereof. For more information about this exhibition or about other Society programs, please call 631.765.5500 or email info@southoldhistorical.org.

Saturdays and Sundays through September 22 "ON THE WATERFRONT" EXHIBIT is on display in the Ann Currie-Bell House on the Museum Complex at 55200 Main Rd., Southold on from 1-4pm

MATTITUCK-LAUREL HISTORICAL SOCIETY

631-298-5248 • Mattituck

Our mission is to preserve, protect, and promote the history of this special area of the North Fork and its people, from earliest times to the present day, for current and future generations.

Sunday August 18 2pm A Decoy Presentation by Dick Richardson & Tim Seiger at the New Egypt School House, 18300 Main Road and Cardinal Dr., Mattituck. Long Island is located on the eastern flyway for Waterfowl. At the turn of the century, ducks were plentiful over the East End and would be hunted for food and sport. This presentation will demonstrate the decoys used and will feature info on decoys and duck hunting as well as anecdotal hunting tales. Bring your decoys for an "Antique Road Show" style appraisal for $5 each decoy. Proceeds go to the Historical Society. For questions or info: webmaster@mlhistoricalsociety.org or Mark MacNish at 631-379-7494 or macnish@aol.com.

AUGUST: "Wild Places – Wild Things" – Photography by Chris Bazer
Huntington, L.I. photographer-digital photo-artist Christopher Scott Bazer will show a selection of his works that encompass his travels from Hawaii to the Greek Isles and from Alaska to Barbados with many places in between, highlighting the fauna, flora and natural wonders of each region, presented in stunning photos in the artist's own unique style that he has dubbed, "Neo-impressionist Digital Photo Art". As you view some of these pieces you may find yourself wondering, "Is this a painting or a photograph?" This exhibit will also feature paintings by the artist that include a series of local landscapes, painted in acrylic on wooden box ends rescued from North Shore Beaches decades ago.

CURRENT EXHIBITS

When Women Wore Whales: The Story of How Whalebone Shaped 19th-Century Fashion. Through a display of 19th-century photographs, fashion magazine plates, whaling tools, corsets, parasols, and exquisite dresses showing the changes in fashion from 1820 to 1920, this exhibit explores the fascinating and vital role the U.S. whaling industry played in the world of 19th-century fashion. Curated by Richard Doctorow. In our Weathervane Gallery until Dec. 20, 2019.

Oh, Sweet Spring! A Festive Exhibit Celebrating the Passing of Old Man Winter Through the Flora and Fauna in Our Collection. There may still be rain and ruin outside, but inside the museum's Gish Gallery, spring has sprung! Come explore a decadent visual and audio cornucopia of music, paintings, pottery, textiles, clothing, sculpture, and photographs that celebrate Oh, Sweet Spring! This exhibit is sure to have you kicking off the galoshes, tossing away the umbrella, and leaving with a song in your heart and a smile on your face. Curated by Richard Doctorow. In our Gish Gallery.

The Silver Screens of Suffolk. (Exhibit Closing on August 24) Celebrating the History of Film: 1900s to 1960s. Suffolk County played a surprising role in the early stages of the silent film industry with some of the earliest production studios located on Long Island. This major exhibit celebrates the history of film, illustrating its early connections to Suffolk County and our area's charming local theaters through a showcase of one of the finest private collections of movie posters, programs, heralds, and theater window cards. From silent films to Hollywood legends, sci-fi to Disney animations, Silver Screens of Suffolk offers a fun-filled adventure for all ages! In our Grand Staas Gallery.

OFF-SITE EXHIBITION

Suffolk County Pine Barrens Pictorial Exhibit. A standing display on loan from the Suffolk County Historical Society provides an overview of the history of the Pine Barrens and the critical role this region plays in the protection of Suffolk County's precious groundwater. On display at the Suffolk County Water Authority Education Center: 260 Motor Pkwy, Hauppauge, NY. 631-292-6565 or EdCenterTours@SCWA.com.

SCHS PHOTO OF THE WEEK SERIES! To subscribe to our free and popular historic photo-story series, visit our website or send an email request to librarian Wendy Polhemus-Annibell: wannibell@schs-museum.org

ONGOING: Membership Drive! Join the Suffolk County Historical Society and support local history preservation. Founded in 1886, SCHS is a non-profit organization that collects and preserves the rich history of Suffolk County. We operate a history museum, offer an expansive library and archives, and host a multitude of events, programs, and educational lectures and workshops. Our unique collection reflects more than three centuries of local history. Visit our website or call 631-727-2881 to join.

Introducing...

CHULOH!

He's a 6 year old, corgi and beagle mix who gets along with everyone. This outgoing low-rider is great with other dogs, cats and kids. He's just about perfect in every way - he loves to be with his people and enjoys leisurely strolls.

COME MEET HIM!

The Southold Animal Shelter is full to the brim with kittens! There are tabbies, calicos, tuxies, snowshoes, and pretty much every color, size, age and temperament are just waiting on their forever families to find them. The kittens are all spayed or neutered, fully vetted and up-to-date on shots
