Why did 1.3 million families refuse to buy life insurance online?

They had an Allstate Agency they trusted to help them get it right.

Let's sit down and talk about your life insurance needs today. I'm happy to answer questions, explain the details and help you choose the right policy for your family and budget. Life insurance is too important not to have an Allstate Agent looking out for you. Call me.

A correction to our November issue, page 4!

(...we even spelled TRYAC with a K!)

We thank Bob Kaelin of Riverhead for straightening us out:

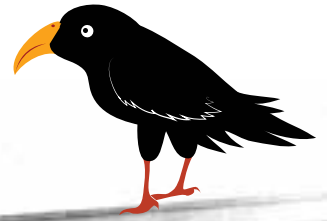

THIS IS THE WAY IT WAS...

First, the Meredith photo of the four new FARMALL tractors on the south side of the large building was taken at least ten years earlier, and the type of tractors (Super "H", etc.) bear this out. That building was erected in the late forties by the Long Island Produce and Fertilizer Company (LIPCO) for their International Harvester (IH) sales and service of farm machinery and International trucks. This IH dealership was managed by my father, George Kaelin, until he died in 1955. Today, that building is the location of AGWAY on Youngs Avenue in Southold. The smaller building in the right hand corner is not the same building [now the location of Fitness Advantage on the corner of Youngs and Rte. 48]. It was built by the Riverhead firm of Fanning & Housner for their JOHN DEERE dealership and was opened up in February 1947. My father's brother, D. Russell (Russ) Kaelin was sent to Southold to be resident manager.

(That's right – two Kaelins): my father and Uncle Russ always observed the normal amenities between brothers for 48 years that they were together in our large family, but they were hot competitors for nearly half that time (almost 24 years).

In the late 1950's LIPCO was divided up with AGWAY keeping the produce and fertilizer business while LIPCO principals Talmage, Young and Cushman formed a new company with the acronym "TRYAC", retaining the IH dealership for trucks, tractors and farm machinery. They built a new large facility on Rte. 48 in Riverhead. I was away in the Army for four years between 1956 and 1960 while all this moving and shaking was going on, so I'm not able to nail down any specific dated, nor did I know exactly who did what in the meantime. But by the time I got back home in 1960, Fanning & Housner had already pulled back to Riverhead and TRYAC was in full swing at their Riverhead location. One final note: Rolle Brothers had absolutely nothing to do with the four tractors shown in the photo. Rolles had started up in Jamesport after the War with a MASSEY-HARRIS dealership, then they later built a new facility in Riverhead where they took over the OLIVER dealership from Max Bobinski. The Rolles didn't make tractors, but for many years the youngest brother, Walter, designed, built and sold a large number of very successful potato harvesters. Except for AGWAY, the other companies are all gone by now. – Bob Kaelin

Truly a Good Company! All the Employees are Great!

I have been using Flanders Heating & Air Conditioning for many years and have been very pleased with their service. I recently called to have my unit serviced and was treated courteously by a very knowledgeable person. The serviceman came out and arrived on time; he even called ahead...I have already recommended them and will continue to do so. It is hard to find a truly good company and I plan to keep using them.

Great Service, No Complaints!

I have been using Flanders Heating & Air Conditioning three or four years. They come when they say they will come. They do what they say they will do. Everyone who works for them is quite pleasant... they did a beautiful job. Everyone in the office is always really nice and helpful, whether it be the receptionist or the boss, and they are straightforward. They don't give you a runaround. I highly recommend Flanders Heating & Air Conditioning.

IN THE LIBRARY'S ART GALLERY

DECEMBER: "Hope" – Photography by Peter Raico, a Mattituck resident, returns for his second visit to our gallery. "Since I had my first photography class and was assigned different projects each week you would find me holding my trusty 35 mm SLR. Now I've upgraded to a higher digital camera that has used in the majority of my current pictures. Seeing the world with my own unique view is more than likely the real reason I got into taking photos - to share the beauty of what I love. With my art, I hope to bring viewers a sense of nostalgia with a modern twist while keeping an old time feeling of yesteryear."

JANUARY: "Visions for 2020" – Group Show by Good Ground Artists ...a group of artists dedicated to promoting the arts, raising awareness and art education. Based in Hampton Bays (formerly known as Good Ground), the group includes artists from the North and South Forks and surrounding areas. All are welcome to an opening reception on Sunday, January 11th from 2-4 p.m. in the Library Gallery.

EXHIBITS

What's Your Compass? A Women Sharing Art Multimedia Exhibit featuring the work of over three dozen Long Island women artists. An instrument used to show direction, a compass gives orientation to where one has been and where one is going. Metaphorically, a compass is a symbol for guidance, bearing, and forging one's path. Artist-members of Women Sharing Art, Inc., presents this multimedia art exhibit in our Gish Gallery thru December 21, 2019.

Native People of the Eastern Woodlands: Art and Artifacts. The Eastern Woodlands is a cultural area of the indigenous people of North America, consisting of tribes inhabiting the US and Canada, east of the Mississippi. Their art and artifacts reflect their deep-rooted culture. This exhibit in our Staas Gallery showcases modern native artists exploring historic themes and identities alongside earlier works. Art, artifacts, carvings, portraits, and tribal dress combine in this celebration. Exhibit curated by Jamie Reason. In our Grand Staas Gallery through February 2020.

When Women Wore Whales: The Story of How Whalebone Shaped 19th-Century Fashion. A display of 19th-century photographs, fashion magazine plates, whaling tools, corsets, parasols, and exquisite dresses showing the changes in fashion from 1820 to 1920. Explores the fascinating and vital role the U.S. whaling industry in 19th-century fashion. Curated by Richard Doctorow. In our Weathervane Gallery until Dec. 20, 2019.

OFF-SITE EXHIBITION

Suffolk County Pine Barrens Pictorial Exhibit. A standing display provides an overview of the history of the Pine Barrens and its critical role this region plays in the protection of precious groundwater. December 14 at 8 PM, December 15 at 2:30 PM: A Christmas Carol

Charles Dickens' classic story, adapted and performed by Stuart Whalen. Dickens' story of miserly and miserable Ebenezer Scrooge, as he undergoes a redemptive transformation with the help of four spirits, is brought to life for this one-person show. During the 90 minutes spent alone on stage with just a chair, a trunk and some varied lighting, Stuart Whalen will step into and out of more than 20 roles.

January 17-19, 24-26, 31, February 1-2: Picasso at the Lapin Agile by Steve Martin Rehearsals are underway for this long running Off Broadway comedy that places Albert Einstein and Pablo Picasso in a Parisian cafe just before Einstein transformed physics with his theory of relativity and Picasso set the art world afire with cubism. Playwright Steve Martin (that's right, the comedian) plays fast and loose with fact, fame, and fortune as these two geniuses talk with each other and several other fanciful characters.

Sunday, Jan 5 at 6 PM and Monday, Jan 6 at 6 PM: Auditions for "Wolf Hall" will take place at the Mattituck American Legion hall, Pike Street and Wickham Avenue.

Callbacks are tentatively set for Wednesday, January 8. "Wolf Hall," Mike Poulton's adaptation of the Hilary Mantel novel, tells the story of the rise of King Henry VIII's adviser Thomas Cromwell. All roles (19 men and seven women) are open. Sides will be provided in advance; prepared monologues are welcome. Contact director Colin Palmer at 631-745-0124 for further details.

SEASON'S GREETINGS HEALTH & HAPPINESS IN 2020

As 2020 approaches, I am reminded of those who have helped me along in my journey of life and profession. I don't get enough opportunity to personally say "thank you" even though I am thankful every day. At this special time, I want to express my deepest appreciation for placing your confidence in me, and supporting my practice with your friendship and referrals. Wishing you and yours Season's Greetings. May the joy of the holidays extend to you and your family now and throughout the coming year.
