Looking for...

1. The Southold Historical Society is looking for any info on a Tom Currie-Bell painting that is named “The Hurricane House in Cutchogue”. If anyone has any information about its location or history, please share.
- 2 East End Seaport Museum & Marine Foundation presents (with your help) Snapshot! — Memories of the Bays in the 50’s and 60’s.
With your help EESM will hold an exhibition of photos and memorabilia from the 1950’s through the 1960’s featuring your memories and a little history. You remember that barbecue, that fishing trip, your father’s boat, your first sailboat, the one that didn’t get away. Not to mention storms, ice and other adventures because... you were there. Shapshots! Pictures, memorabilia, that stuff you can’t throw out...share them with the community. Think swap meet meets a museum. We hope, with the communities participation, to develop a “shapshot of the times”. All items will be returned. These times were rich in memories and no truer picture can be formed without you. Items will be gladly accepted at the Museum, 3rd Street, Greenport, NY beginning March 30th and 31st.

Tongman on Peconic Bay

by Gerard Matovcik, Reference Librarian,
Mattituck-Laurel Library, with the help of Jay Malone.

The interesting photograph on this issue's cover is in the Mattituck-Laurel Library Historical Collection. On the back of the photo is inscribed "Stanley Sadowski of Jamesport." (We could not positively identify who this Stanley Sadowski is.)

We spoke to bayman Jay Malone to learn more about the shell fishing in this photo. According to Jay, the long poles Mr. Sadowski is holding for shell fishing are "tongs." Tongs are hand-held scissor-like rakes with the tooth-side of each rake facing each other. They can vary in length from seven to eighteen feet.

With his skiff anchored in front, the "tonger" or "tongman" worked the top of the poles, open and close, to grab clams from the floor of the bay. This traditional method of shell fishing is least destructive to the bay floor. There is an art to working the tongs because the bottom of the bay can vary from a light silt to pure sand to hard mud. A good tongman could feel the tops of clams with his poles and scoop them up. If he grabbed clams or oysters, he would lift the tongs up to the deck and drop the bivalves onto it. Back in the 1960's you could get fifteen clams or more in one grab; while today you might get one or two.

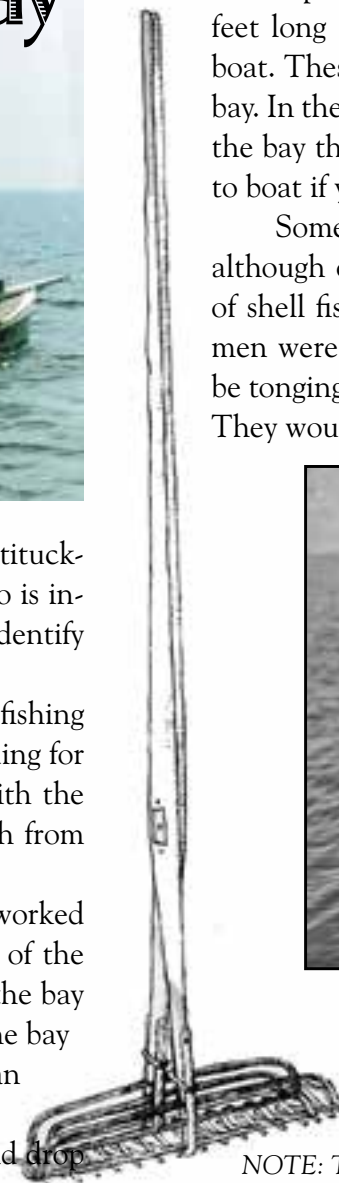

In our photo, Mr. Sadowski uses tongs that are probably eighteen feet long as he stands on the stern of a Dutchman-style tonging boat. These wide flat boats were ideal for the shallow waters of the bay. In the early days of clamming there were so many skiffs working the bay that, as old-timers like to claim, "you could step from boat to boat if you wanted to."

Some bay men continue to use the tonging method today, although other methods have replaced it. In the prosperous years of shell fishing, in late fall or winter oyster high season, some bay men were tonging, perhaps through the ice. In spring, they might be tonging seed oysters from natural beds in the east end of the Bay. They would be tonging in summer clam high season.

In 1911, photographer and sociologist Lewis Hine documented child labor in the oyster industry. Here is an adolescent in the foreground (about twelve years old) "tonging" on an oyster boat in Mobile Bay, Alabama.

NOTE: To learn more about clamming and tonging, access YouTube and search for "Time and Tide (Clamming on Long Island)," a documentary about Ralph Frederico, a life-long clammer on Long Island.

Do People
Sometimes
Call You...

Unreasonable?

Sounds Like You're Our Kind of Customer!

At Flanders, we get it – and You.

You see, in our experience Unreasonable usually means you want things done exactly right – not just 'good enough'. And we respect that because, for over 60 years here on the East End, that's been our approach, too.

We don't cut corners, and we don't play games.

So whether you need a simple ductless system, or a full LEED compliant whole-home design and installation, if you want it done once and done right, we're the ones to call.

Why? Because when it comes to creating and maintaining your home environment just the way you want it, we think asking for perfection is actually, well, pretty Reasonable.

The above photo appeared in our February 2019 issue, with a request for help in naming the Southold High School students in this “The Swami of Bagdad” production. With enthusiastic responses we have several definitive names, a few questionable ones. Contributors included Bob Kaelin, Sandra Kaser, Bill Zebroski, Donna Zukosky and Denise Planz-Cornell. Thanks to Joy Ann Strasser, who went through the class yearbooks from 1947 through 1950, we have a list of all the students who listed their participation in the production in their high school achievements. She came up with a total of 64 names, listed on the right:

We have put the corresponding numbers of those identified next to their listed names. Here are the questionable ones:

- #34 was identified as “last name Newbold” but there are two: Jean (a Senior) and Meryle (a Freshman)
- #41 Carol Bergen?
- #45 Julie Akstin?
- #50 Barbara ?
- #52 Stanley Dickeski? (there is a Sophomore Frank Diskeski listed)
- #55 Joan Kaelin?

Saturday March 16: Carvalho's Journey

This documentary is the story of Solomon Nunes Carvalho, an observant Sephardic Jew born in Charleston, South Carolina and his life as a groundbreaking explorer and artist. A real life 19th-century American western adventure, Carvalho's Journey tells the extraordinary story of Solomon Nunes Carvalho (1815-1897), an observant Sephardic Jew born in Charleston, South Carolina, and his life as a groundbreaking explorer and artist. The film interweaves stunning HD digital and 16mm film landscape cinematography, rare 19th century photographs and artwork, Carvalho's own surviving paintings and daguerreotypes, and interviews with scholars and artists, including modern day daguerreotypist Robert Shlaer who recreates Carvalho's original daguerreotypes on location.

Saturday April 27: Trezoros: The Lost Jews of Kastoria

Using never-before-seen pre-war archival footage and first-person testimonies, this film chronicles the Jewish life and culture of a picturesque lakeside village in the mountains of Northwestern Greece, near Albania. Here, Jews and Greek Orthodox Christians lived together in harmony for more than two millennia until World War II, when this long and rich history was wiped out in the blink of an eye. The film takes us from the joyful innocence of the pre-war years through the heartbreaking struggles of the Holocaust, to a unique Greek Jewish culture lost forever.

"WHAT MAKES A QUILT A QUILT?" THURSDAY MARCH 21

Southold Historical Society welcomes master quilter JoAnne Maddalena as she explores "What Makes a Quilt a Quilt?" Her presentation is sure to attract both avid quilters and those that are simply interested in the beautiful art of quilting. JoAnne will touch upon quilting techniques, design and materials all while sharing her passion and enthusiasm of the craft. With samples of her own creations, attendees will get a comprehensive understanding of quilting and inspiration for your own projects! Guests are encouraged to bring along their own pieces to share and discuss during this talk. The presentation will be held at 2pm at the Ann Currie-Bell House located at 55200 Main Rd., Southold. It is free to the public; donations are graciously accepted. Please RSVP by March 18 by calling 631.765.5500. For more info call 631.765.5500 or visit www.southoldhistorical.org.

LEARN ABOUT MARINE GPS SATURDAY APRIL 13

The United States Power Squadrons will present "Using GPS", part of the USPS University seminar series, at 10am at West Marine, 1089 Old Country Road, Riverhead. Attendees will learn about GPS functions, screens, controls, waypoints, courses and much more. GPS has become a common tool for navigation. However, using GPS on the water is distinctly different from a moving map display in your car. This seminar explains the principles of waypoint navigation and how to access the functions you need. Students will be shown how to relate GPS to navigation charts which provide essential information about the area around you. By the time you have completed the seminar, you will be able to store waypoints into your GPS, activate them for navigation, and use GPS to keep you on a safe, pre-qualified course of your choosing. There is a $35.00 fee and student should register on line at www.pbps.us/education/schedule before April 6th. To learn more or reserve your space call Vince Mauceri: 631-725-3679.

SPRING TRIP TO VERMONT MONDAY, MAY 20 TO FRIDAY, MAY 24

It may still be Winter, but it's not too soon to be thinking about a wonderful Spring trip to Vermont with the Southold-Peconic Seniors. The trip is open to everyone. The cost is $630 double occupancy and includes motorcoach transportation leaving from the Peconic Recreation Center, breakfasts, dinners, sightseeing, taxes and tips. We will be visiting the Shelburne Museum, comprising of 39 buildings on 45 acres, time in Burlington's marketplace, a beautiful dinner cruise on Lake Champlain complete with entertainment, the Rock of Ages Quarry, Montpelier's State Capitol tour, the Morse Farm Sugar Maple Works with another dinner party and entertainment, Cold Hollow Cider Mill, the Stowe Village, and Ben and Jerry's ice cream factory in the Green Mountains. Sounds like a great trip, doesn't it? Contact Mary Pedersen at 631-765-9243 or 516-607-4504 for further details and to make your reservations. Don't miss out!

Sunday March 10: It's never too early to start the community garden! Come plant carrots, onions, and radish seed in our deluxe root viewers. You will also get your own special peat cup and flower seeds to take home. Drop in anytime between 1-4pm. All welcome

Monday March 11-Thursday March 14: Breakout.edu is back! Last time we solved clues to open the locked boxes while learning about the library. What will the puzzles be this time? Come in and find out!

Thursday March 14: Pi Day. Celebrate National Pi day with a slice of pie. Pie will be offered all day long.

Saturday March 16: 1pm Make a candle with Curiously Creative Candles. Use dry, scented, colored, recycled wax to create your own unique candle. All ages welcome, registration required. Limited to 25 participants.

Monday March 25-Thursday March 28: Duct Tape Art. Use everyone's favorite tape to create wearable art.

Saturday March 30: The Great Playdate, 2pm. Jump bunch at Cutchogue New Suffolk library. North Fork little ones are invited to play together as a team at this energetic and fun program. Winkie Schultz will coach us on how to play basketball while we hang out with our friends from the Cutchogue-New Suffolk and Southold Libraries. Ages 2 to 5, registration required.

Adopt Love!

This spunky 4 year old miniature poodle and Maltese mix is a real charmer! He lost his home when his people moved out of the country but he's quickly become a staff favorite because he's so loving. Ricky's got all the right moves – he's smart, he's super affectionate and would make the perfect addition to almost any home.

RICKY

CUPCAKE

This cute 1 year old Domestic Short Hair is a delightful companion animal. While most cats would not relish the idea of wearing a bowtie collar for photos, Cupcake eats it up. She's as sweet as her name suggests. Cupcake was picked up as a stray but it's obvious that she was once part of a family. She would love nothing more than to regain her role as lap warmer. Come meet her!

CHOOSING THE RIGHT BROKER MATTERS

There are many real estate agents you could choose to work with - but very few have the track record of success that Nich's generated over the last 30 years. Whether it's marketing unique properties, negotiating the best deal, or tracking down just the right house for a discerning buyer, he has proven that he's able to not only meet but exceed expectations every time. Call Nich today to assist with your North Fork real estate needs or to receive an obligation-free Market Analysis of your property.
