

from escaping the Adriatic, but it had little or no effect on the submarines based at Cattaro. At the time, Walter was serving under Charles P. "Jugge" Nelson who was appointed commander of the Leonidas, a tender of the submarine chaser divisions, and who assumed command of the submarine chaser divisions ordered to Corfu.

Walter married Marion Lane Terry, November 11, 1919, at Riverhead and set up housekeeping there. Marion's father, Everett Oliver Terry, was a blacksmith. When Marion was thirteen, her father died three years after he lost his legs in a train accident. Walter sold machines and automobiles and later was an automotive stock clerk. He and Marion moved to Farmingdale about the time World War II started, and Walter took work as a stock clerk with Grumman. Walter and Marion retired to Lakeland, Florida. Walter died in March 1957. He and his wife are buried in Oak Hill Burial Park in Lakeland. Their only child, Jacqueline T., married Donald H. Swandowski and married a second time to Roderick D. Thompson.

Lizzie Helfrich (Age 5)

Elizabeth May Helfrich was born January 6, 1892 at Mattituck in Southold, the daughter of John C. Helfrich and Annie Frances Stewart. Her father was a house carpenter who built his own hose at Mattituck about 1890 on Love Lane "just west of the Eureka House" (Eureka House is the present day "Iron Skillet" house). Lizzie graduated from Southampton High School, Class of 1910, with her former Mattituck Public School classmate, Florence Fanning. Before she married Carroll Charles Finkenor (born Finkenauer), Lizzie was a school teacher. Lizzie died at age forty-five after being married for only ten years. She had one child: Robert Carroll who married Anna M. Stevenson.

Saturday September 4, CONCERT CONSTELLATIONS 8pm

Teatro Yerbabruja presents a performance-art immersive experience held outdoors under the North Fork night sky! CONSTELLATIONS is a multimedia, interdisciplinary performance that integrates dance, theater, sound, and painting with technology, to create a multisensory experience for the audience. The word "constellation" comes from Latin - con (together) stella (star). This group of stars is united by imaginary lines that form discernable patterns (silhouettes) resembling figures recognizable to the cultures that interpret them. In an attempt to understand our existence, constellations often have served as maps for humans who try to find physical and spiritual paths. The past year has confirmed that our survival requires human connection and, at the same time, we were drawn to examine our place between earth and space. This production introduces our personal stories as contemporary narratives, using dancers' bodies and new technology to create performative installations that explore our personal connections through constellations that inspire us. $35 Adult, $20 Observatory Members, Children Under 16 FREE. Tickets at www.custerobservatory.org. Attendance to this in-person performance will be limited and restrictions in place per NYS COVID-19 guidelines required at the time of the event. Please bring a blanket or chair to enjoy this outdoor presentation. Due to the outdoor nature of this show, a rain date is scheduled for Sunday, September 5th.

Following the concert, Observatory staff will provide guided tours of the night sky (weather permitting) through our many telescopes on site, including the apochromatic Zerachromat telescope in our historic observation dome.

Saturday September 11, Buying And Using Your First Telescope 8pm. Ed Anderson, a member of the Astronomical Society of Long Island (ASLI) and of the Custer Institute, will provide insights into what you need to know and understand about buying or owning your first telescope. He will discuss what they cost, the different types of telescopes, where and how you store them, how you would transport them and some basics on their use. Whether your budget is small or large, there is a telescope out there for everyone! There will be time for questions and answers at the end of the presentation and if the weather is good, Ed will open the ASLI dome on the grounds of Custer Observatory and turn the 14" Meade telescope on the wonders of the sky, selecting showcase targets for your enjoyment. Weather permitting, Custer Observatory staff will also give tours of the night sky through the Zerachromat telescope in the main observatory dome and other powerful telescopes on site. Feel free to bring your own binoculars or telescope, if you have one, to look through after the presentation. Or just enjoy the view from ours!

$5 Adult, $3 Children Under 16, Observatory Member FREE. Reservations encouraged at www.custerobservatory.org. Your donations make it possible to offer programs like these and are greatly appreciated. Attendance will be limited and restrictions in place per NYS COVID-19 guidelines required at the time of the event. Bring a blanket or chair to enjoy this outdoor presentation.

ON-GOING: Custer Observatory is open to the public every Saturday from dusk until midnight for stargazing. Staff provide guided tours of the night sky through the powerful telescopes (weather permitting). Suggested donation: $5 Adults, $3 Children under 12.

Now through September 11 INTERACTIVE EXHIBIT: What the #*!! Is THAT?: Ordinary Objects From Yesteryear That Are Mysteries to Our Modern Eyes. In our Weathervane Gallery. The objects we use to get through an ordinary day have changed tremendously over time, so much so that many everyday items once used at work or at home by our grandparents (or great-grandparents) are now virtually unrecognizable. This exhibit showcases a selection of the most mysterious, interesting, and challenging objects from our collection to baffle, befuddle, and bemuse. Can you guess what they are? Bring your cellphone for an interactive experience! Curated by Richard Doctorow.

Now through September 25 EXHIBIT: America in Print: Prints, Lithographs and Etchings from the SCHS Collection in our Staas Gallery. Before the 1800s, art was largely reserved for the wealthy, but with the invention of lithography in 1796 – and particularly color lithography in 1837 - printers were able to mass-produce beautiful color prints that were cheap enough for anyone to buy. Suddenly, art was available to all and everyone could decorate their homes and offices with any of the thousands of images offered by such notable printers as Louis Prang, Napoleon Sarony, and Currier and Ives. Featuring themes of nineteenth-century life in landscapes, cityscapes, ships, racehorses, scenes from literature, politics, Civil War battle scenes, and rare examples of "lithographic Long Island," this exhibit captures the evolution of an American art form.

Now through October 30 SEEKING SANCTUARY: 125 Years of Synagogues on Long Island. In our Gish Gallery beginning August 7, 2021. Exhibit sponsored by the Jewish Historical Society of Long Island. Curated by Brad Kolodny. Opening Reception/Meet the Curator: Thursday, August 12, 6-8 pm. Free to members; $5/non-member. Includes light refreshments. Brad Kolodny set out to document and photograph every synagogue that has ever existed in Nassau and Suffolk, and four years later he completed that task, having photographed 385 buildings that at one time were, or currently are, being used as a synagogue. This exhibit showcases a sampling of Kolodny's images based on their historic significance, architectural design, and other attributes. Together, the images tell the story of Judaism's evolution on LI—from the humble beginnings of the first synagogue built in 1896 and the massive growth following World War II to today.

Saturday, Sept. 25 thru Wednesday, Nov. 24 UPCOMING HALLOWEEN EXHIBIT: The Gory Gallery: A Gloriously Gruesome Gathering of Lyrical Lamentations for the Dearly Departed will open in our Weathervane Gallery on Objects exhibited as you've never seen them before...in the "SPIRIT" of Halloween! A delightfully hauntingly humorous history exhibit that is sure to delight, entertain, and horrify!

SILVERBROOK ART GLASS WORKS (1943-1976): In our History in the Hall display cases. For the first time in over 30 years our entire Silverbrook Collection is showcased in our museum! After fleeing their native Czechoslovakia in 1937 in fear of a Hitler invasion, the Kreutz brothers came to the United States as fifth-generation glass-blowers, settling in Suffolk County and establishing their glassworks company on Flanders Road in Riverhead. Unlike most other glassware manufactured by machinery at the time, the Kreutz brothers used the traditional centuries-old hand-blown glass techniques they had learned in their homeland.

OFF-SITE EXHIBITION: Suffolk County Pine Barrens Pictorial Exhibit. A display on loan from the SCHS provides an overview of the history of the Pine Barrens and the critical role this region plays in the protection of our precious groundwater. On display at the SCWA Education Center: 260 Motor Pkwy, Hauppauge. 631-292-6565 or EdCenter-Tours@SCWA.com.
